DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 1 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lajus.

The Lajus Patent shows in figure 5, a plunger for use in a syringe comprising a body portion having an inner wall, a discharge end and a transition region defined between the body portion and the discharge end, the plunger comprising a base, a plunger surface comprising a seal; wherein increases in pressure caused by movement of the plunger in a syringe compresses the seal portion between the inner wall of the syringe and the side portion of the base to create a dynamic seal between the seal portion and the inner wall.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 2-10, 12-19, and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lajus in view of Farkas, Nussbaumer et al., Neer et al, and Linder. Lajus does not expressly disclose specific tapering angles used in the plunger design, and conical and hemispherical shapes. However, these enhancements are conventional as evidenced by the teachings of Farkas, Nussbaumer et al., Neer et al, and Linder.

The listed patents show variations in the tapering angle that are within the disclosed ranges. Additionally, Nussbaumer et al. discloses a conical plunger. Accordingly, based on the conventionality of the disclosed enhancements, for a person of ordinary skill in the art, their use in plunger designs would be considered obvious design alternatives.
